AF3625 Engineering Economics - Presentation Rubric

Criteria	Excellent	Satisfactory	Barely satisfactory	Unsatisfactory
Accuracy & Understanding of the Content (35% of the total marks)	• The presentation demonstrates a concise & comprehensive understanding of the subject content. • The presentation has detailed explanation of the major concepts.	• The presentation demonstrates an accurate understanding of the subject content. • The presentation has some explanation of the major concepts.	• The presentation demonstrates a partial understanding of the subject content. • The presentation has a few misconceptions.	• The presentation demonstrates an inaccurate understanding of subject content. • The presentation has many misconceptions.
Elaboration & Details (25% of the total marks)	• Details are fully elaborated and analyzed, including all necessary and relevant information for full understanding. • A variety of types of supporting materials (explanations, examples, illustrations, statistics, analogies) make reference to information or analysis that significantly supports the presentation or establish the presenters' credibility on the topic.	• Details are mostly elaborated and analyzed, including most necessary and relevant information for understanding. • Most supporting materials (explanations, examples, illustrations, statistics, analogies) make reference to information or analysis that generally supports the presentation or establish the presenters' credibility on the topic.	• Details are partially elaborated and analyzed, including a few necessary information but without clarification or description. • Insufficient supporting materials (explanations, examples, illustrations, statistics, analogies) make reference to information or analysis that minimally supports the presentation or establish the presenter's credibility on the topic.	• Details are not elaborated and analyzed. Most necessary information is missed out. • No supporting materials (explanations, examples, illustrations, statistics, analogies) are included to support the presentation or establish the presenters' credibility on the topic.
PowerPoint Design	• All slides display elements of effective design. Fonts, colors,	• Most slides display elements of effective design. Most fonts, colors, backgrounds,	• Most slides display elements of effective design. A few fonts,	• A few slides display elements of effective design. Most fonts,

AF3625 Engineering Economics - Presentation Rubric

(15% of the total marks)	backgrounds, etc. are reasonable, consistent and relevant to the topic and audience. • All texts, symbols and formulae are logically arranged along with paragraphs with spacing and indention in high readability.	etc. are reasonable, consistent and relevant to the topic and audience. • Most texts, symbols and formulae are logically arranged along with paragraphs with spacing and indention in high readability.	colors, backgrounds, etc. are reasonable, consistent and relevant to the topic and audience. • Insufficient texts, symbols and formulae are logically arranged along with paragraphs with spacing and indention in high readability.	colors, backgrounds, etc. are not reasonable, consistent or relevant to the topic and audience. • Rarely the texts, symbols and formulae are logically arranged along with paragraphs with spacing and indention in high readability.
Language choices & Presentation Skills (15% of the total marks)	• Language choices are concise and compelling, and enhance the effectiveness of the presentation. • The presenters always demonstrate grammar accuracy and precise choice of words. • Delivery techniques (posture, gesture, eye contact, and vocal expressiveness) make the presentation compelling.	• Language choices are understandable and generally support the effectiveness of the presentation. • The presenters often demonstrate grammar accuracy and precise choice of words. • Delivery techniques (posture, gesture, eye contact, and vocal expressiveness) make the presentation effective.	• Language choices are mostly understandable and generally support the effectiveness of the presentation, with some ideas articulated unclearly occasionally. • The presenters demonstrate grammar accuracy and precise choice of words. • Delivery techniques (posture, gesture, eye contact, and vocal expressiveness) make the presentation understandable most of the times.	• Language choices are unclear and minimally support the effectiveness of the presentation. • The presenters demonstrate grammar inaccuracy and uses very limited vocabulary. • Delivery techniques (posture, gesture, eye contact, and vocal expressiveness) detract from the understandability of the presentation.

AF3625 Engineering Economics - Presentation Rubric

Teamwork (10% of the total marks)	• The team is completely prepared and has obviously rehearsed. • All presenters know the information, participate equally, and help each other as needed, such as responding to questions.	• The team is well-prepared but might have needed a couple more rehearsals. • The presenters participate unequally, but help each other as needed, such as responding to questions.	• The team is somewhat prepared, but it is clear that rehearsal is lacking. • The presenters participate unequally, and seldom help each other as needed, such as responding to questions.	The team does not seem at all prepared to present. There is a lack of preparation/rehearsal. • The presenters participate unequally, and do not show sign of helping each other at all as needed, such as responding to questions.